Domaine de la Pierre des Dames is located in the picturesque commune of Prissé, nestled in the heart of the Lamartinien Valley. Founded in 1992 by Vincent Nectoux, Jean-Michel Aubinel, and Marie-Thérèse Canard, they cultivate 26 hectares across southern Burgundy.

Planted predominantly with Chardonnay, as well as smaller parcels of Pinot Noir, Gamay, and Aligoté. The vineyards they cultivate cover a diverse range of terroir which enables them to make wines under several AOPs. From Chardonnay they produce Crémant de Bourgogne, Macon-Villages, Bourgogne Blanc, Macon Prissé, Macon La Roche Vineuse and Saint-Véran. Vincent Nectoux, who is the winemaker and manages the estate, has been the president of the Saint-Véran Cru since 2023. From Aligoté they produce a Bourgogne Aligoté, and from their red varietals, a Bourgogne Rouge from Pinot Noir and a Macon-Rouge from Gamay.

Committed to sustainability, Domaine de la Pierre des Dames, since 2020, has eliminated the use of chemical herbicides. This eco-friendly approach has earned them their High Environmental Value Certification. Using ancestral knowledge combined with modern techniques, they make a beautiful range of wines that showcase sense of place, typicity of the varietals, and precise winemaking expertise.
