Method & Production

The Mencia vines are over 85 years old. No herbicides are used in the vineyards, the winery is in the process of organic conversion. Manual harvest of the grapes to preserve fruit quality. Alcoholic and malolactic fermentation in stainless steel using indigenous yeasts. The resulting wine is transferred to 10,000 L wooden foudre where it ages for 8 months. Bottle refinement for 6 months before release.

Tasting Notes

Vibrant crimson. The wine has remarkable freshness, unveiling a medley of red fruits, including wild berries. Hints of smoke and licorice, alongside a touch of balsamic and herbal nuances. The palate is well structured, with good depth and a persistent fruit-driven finish.

Food Matching

This is a perfect barbecue wine, really food-friendly, it goes well with a range of grilled meats and vegetables.
